Aura Photography

What is aura photography?

An aura program has biofeedback sensors that you place your hands on while the picture is being taken. The sensors gather information about your electromagnetic fields and then convert the frequencies to colors.

The color and shape of your aura can change with your emotions, moods, and experiences, and it can also be viewed as a snapshot of your current spiritual well-being. You can also see spirit guides, loved ones who are guiding you and what is coming your way.

Chakra photos are also available with the same program. You can get a snapshot of your chakras. Learn which ones are open and which ones are closed. Receive some insight of what you can do to align your chakras.

July 19th from 11-6PM

$25 for an Aura Photo or a Chakra Photo
$40 for both photos
Includes an interpretation with your photos
